

CIRCUS DAY BRINGS A BIG CROWD TO THIS CITY TODAY

Gentry Brothers' Shows—Center of Attraction Thursday—Good Circus Crowd Is In Town.

With a street parade that reached the business section of the city promptly on time, the Gentry Bros. Shows and wild animal arena opened their circus engagement here today; the red and gold wagons were of the approved circus style, but the peculiar features that have made the Gentry Show dear to the hearts of the children were dominant everywhere, consisting of the smallest ponies, the cutest dogs and the chattering monkeys.

While the elephants received their full share of applause, also peanuts, the tiny mites of equine aristocracy were the favorites; there was a plentitude of music, four bands being in evidence; the clown band forget themselves momentarily, and played an entire selection properly, for which they were promptly "called down" by the boss clown, but it showed they were musicians as well as clowns.

After traversing the downtown section of the city, the parade returned to the circus grounds followed by a large crowd, that immediately got busy with the side-shows, intent on seeing it all.

The first big show performance was scheduled for 2 o'clock, with a complete night show commencing at 8 o'clock.

A very good circus day crowd is in the city. Mayville has the reputation of being a first class circus town and as the people here have been hungry for a circus the crowds turned out well.

SEE CIRCUS UNLOAD.

The unusual large crowd congregated at the L. & N. depot Thursday morning to see the Gentry Brothers' circus unload and the youngsters had a great time among the large number of ponies. The unloading was done in a very orderly and systematic manner.

FINED FOR SPEEDING.

Robert Straus and Milton Russell were before Judge John L. Whitaker in Police Court Thursday afternoon on charges of speeding and were each fined $13.90.

NEW FILM HIT BY WILLIAM DE MILLE

William De Mille has handled a delicate theme in a skillful and delightful manner, in his latest production for Paramount, "Midsummer Madness," at the Washington theater tonight and Gem Friday.

Although the story is of a type entirely different from the producer's two most recent pictures, "The Prince Chap" and "Conrad in Quest of His Youth," it bears the same artistic quality which has characterized all pictures produced under Mr. De Mille's direction.

The story, which is based on Cosmo Hamilton's late novel, "His Friend and His Wife," introduces two young married couples who have been life-long friends. In one family the wife, not receiving the little attentions for which every young wife yearns, is hungry for romance, and in the other, the husband is surfeited by his wife's attentions, and begins to long for new conquests. The inevitable romance between the romantic wife and the over-loved husband develops when the other husband and wife both happen to be out of town at the same time, and affairs reach a critical point. The miscreants awaken to a full sense of the wrong they are doing to innocent people. After a highly emotional climax, all ends happily.

The cast is rich in screen talent and includes Jack Holt, Conrad Nagel, Lois Wilson, Lila Lee, Betty Francisco and Claire McDowell.

MASON COUNTY FARM IS AWARDED COV- ETED CERTIFICATE

Two New Herds Started in Mason County During the Past Few Weeks—Adina Farm Has 110-Pound Calf.

Adina Farms report that they have a pure-bred Holstein calf which weighed 110 pounds the morning after it was born, and which weighed 145 pounds when 12 days old. The dam of this calf is a senior 2 year old, and is milking as high as 60 pounds of milk daily.

Statistics show that Holstein calves weigh more at birth than any other breed of cattle. This is one reason why the use of a pure-bred Holstein sire is so profitable in a grade herd, as the calves are larger and make a better grade of veal.

The Adina Farms herd was awarded the official "Accredited Herd Certificate" for tuberculosis-free herds in May. This herd has never had an animal condemned, and all additions are tested before being admitted to the herd, which insures against infection.

Mr. Wadsworth Cole has recently purchased the pure-bred Holstein cow owned by the Mason county farm. This cow is the dam of the 108 pound calf born at the county farm last week. Messrs. Cole have started a nice herd of Holsteins on their farm in the county.

Osborne and Turner of the Dover neighborhood have recently purchased a pure-bred Holstein bull from Adina Farms for use in their herd of grade cows.

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

The Court of Appeals at Frankfort Tuesday handed down an opinion affirming the decision of Judge L. P. Fryer in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Fryman. At the May term of Circuit Court, when the case of the Commonwealth vs. Fryman for failure to send his child to school was called Judge Fryer held the compulsory attendance law unconstitutional on account of a technicality in the construction of the bill. County Attorney Foster Cox appealed the decision of Judge Fryer to the Court of Appeals and had the case advanced on the docket. The decision of the higher court is very important, inasmuch as it affects the entire state. All indictments now pending in the circuit courts of the state against the persons for failure to send their children to school are automatically quashed. Whether the opinion rendered abolishes the office of compulsory attendance officer will not be known until County Attorney Cox received the full opinion from the Attorney General. — Carlisle Mercury.

COCHRAN—PARKER.

Miss Ellen Thomas Cochran, eldest daughter of Mrs. W. D. Cochran, and Mr. Samuel Alexander Parker, son of Mrs. P. P. Parker, of Mayfield, were very quietly married at the home of the bride's mother in East Second street Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Dr. John Barbour, of the Presbyterian church.

The marriage will be quite a surprise even to the closest friends. The happy young couple left over the C. & O. Thursday afternoon for a wedding trip and returning will make this city their home.

Toddlers, shimmying, the cat-step and the cricket dances are taboo at the penny dances in Cincinnati playgrounds, according to Recreation Director Robert T. Dooin, who held a demonstration of the proper dances at the field house of Deer Creek Commons last night. Only straight dances will be permitted, he says.

MAYSVILLE PEOPLE LIBERAL IN OFFERING TO FLOOD SUFFERERS

Employees of the L. R. Steel Company Receiving Contribution for Relief of Flood Victims Are Successful.

People of Mayville have always been liberal in their contributions to sufferers of all disasters and they are making liberal contributions this week to the relief of the sufferers in the recent great flood at Pueblo, Colorado.

The contributions are being handled by the L. R. Steel Company's local store. This syndicate, which operates stores throughout all of the United States, is interesting itself in the relief of the sufferers and all of the employees of the corporation are making special efforts this week to raise a good fund.

Employees of the local Steel store are calling on the business men of Mayville each day during the week, presenting the cause and giving them an opportunity to make contributions. Thus far in only two days they have raised considerably over twenty-five dollars in small donations. At the end of the week the sum contributed will be turned over to Mayor Russell, who will forward it to the chairman of the Pueblo Flood Relief Fund.

CANDIDATES ARE NOW FILING THEIR PAPERS.

Candidates for office have begun filing their declaration papers with the County Clerk to obtain a place on the ballot. The last day for filing for county office is quite a distance off but the candidates are anxious to get the matter out of the way.

FALLIS IS RELEASED ON $2,500 BOND

Ball Furnished Frankfort Gunman and He Returns Home With His Friends.

Louisville, Ky., June 23.—John Fallis, who shot four policemen and wounded two other persons last Wednesday night in Frankfort, was released from the Jefferson county jail at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening on $5,000 bond. The bond was furnished by T. E. Kenney, his former employer, who went to Louisville with him; Howard Black, prominent stockman; F. W. Selmore and Alex Gordon, grocers, and a neighbor, Henry Howard.

Fallis waived examining trial and was held over to the September grand jury under $1,000 bond on each of the charges of shooting Policemen C. E. Noonan, Jesse Colston and William Wilhelm, and $2,000 on the charge of shooting Policeman Guy Wainwright. No application for the $500 reward, offered by Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, has yet been made, but the Governor said the reward will be paid. Franklin county did not offer a reward and a warrant for Fallis' arrest was not made until after he had been placed in jail at Louisville.

Fallis returned to Frankfort in an automobile following his release from jail with four men, two of whom were Leslie Morris, Fallis' attorney, and a brother of Morg Brawner.

HARDING TO STUDY THE RACE QUESTION.

New York, June 22. — President Harding in a letter to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, made public today, said he planned to proceed as early as possible to study the race question with a view to ameliorating treatment accorded to negroes as outlined in his message to Congress.

"I feel strongly," he added, "that there is opportunity for accomplishment of great and lasting good and that whatever measures will enlist the cooperation of intelligent and broad leaders of both races will serve the most useful purpose."

LOVE TRIANGLE IS UNCOVERED; KILLS HIS WIFE'S FRIEND

Slayer of His Wife's Lover Surrenders Himself After Killing Man Who Had Wrecked His Home.

Middletown, Ohio, June 23. —Harry Lockhart, 44, furniture dealer, probably will be released on bond today when he is given a preliminary hearing in connection with the murder of Henry Agee, 27.

Lockhart surrendered late yesterday to "Squire T. B. Matthews, declaring, "I have come to give myself up. I have just killed Agee."

Lockhart shot and killed Agee when he found the latter in his home with his wife, Bertha.

Mrs. Lockhart refused today to talk of the shooting, which she witnessed. Lockhart told this story when he surrendered himself, police say:

"I love Bird (Mrs. Lockhart), and have known for some time she had been friendly with Agee. I disappeared Wednesday when I came home unexpectedly I found Agee in my home.

"They evidently heard me mount the stairs, for there was some commotion. My wife ran to a bathroom, calling, 'Don't shoot him, Harry!'

"I asked her if she would rather I would kill her and she replied, 'No.'

"Then I told her I couldn't kill her because I loved her too much.

"I then searched the house and found Agee in the attic. He fired at me once and I shot twice. He fell dead. I then walked to the office of 'Squire Matthews and surrendered myself."

Police were making a search of the attic this morning for empty cartridge shells from the automatic pistol of Agee. One bullet hole was found in the attic stairs. Those who know Agee say he was an expert shot with a revolver.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

SHALL WE BE RABBIT HEARTED OR LION HEARTED?

The United States has one-half of the world's coal area, and iron ore and some other minerals apparently proportionately as great. It has nearly one-half of the world's railroad mileage, one-half of the world's coal and iron and steel output, three-fourths or more of the world's sulphur production, two-thirds of the world's cotton, one-third of the world's stock of gold, and one-third of the world's accumulated wealth.

These are typical illustrations of our almost limitless resources and of our material advancement. We have barely scratched the ground in the utilization of our raw materials and our myriad advantages. We have resources sufficient to justify a development of wealth and an output of coal and iron and steel and petroleum and other things far beyond the total of the whole world today.

And yet we have only about six per cent. of the world's population and six per cent. of its land area.

Despite these incalculably great resources and these marvelous advantages, which offer a field of endeavor and profit beyond all the dreams of all the ages, we are at the moment a land of pessimism, of rabbit-hearted men afraid of our shadows. A drink at the fountain of knowledge of these great truths, so briefly presented, should give us the courage which it was once said caused a hitherto timid rabbit to rush afield and box the ears of a bulldog.

Where is our courage? Where is the backbone of our bankers and great business leaders? Where is the foresight and power of the administration that all do not unite and throw out of power those who through their unwise acts have caused the Federal Reserve Board to make cowards of the nation that we have become like a lion so changed as to run from a rabbit.

It is time to assert ourselves; time to have a rebirth of faith in ourselves and our country; time to be "a bull on America;" time to put away the Socialism and Bolshevism and false financial leadership which so long held sway in Washington, and in the language of President Harding slightly changed, say: "By the Eternal, this country shall not die of dry rot, nor shall it be strangled by false financing nor destroyed by radicalism, and radical unionism and all the evils which march under the red flag of anarchy and revolution, slackness and inefficiency."

Then let the honest-hearted workers, whether in the factory, on the farm, in the bank or in the office; in the pulpit or in the teacher's chair; at the editor's desk or at the Linotype machine; rich or poor, high or low, have a new birth of righteousness and patriotism, and a new consecration to work as God's appointed way to man's advance here and hereafter. He who spoke as never man spoke said: "My Father worketh hitherto and I work." Who will follow in the same spirit? — Manufacturers' Record.

STILL FUSSING OVER WOMEN'S FASHIONS.

If she skimps her dress they say she is immodest and if she doesn't they say she is extravagant. With half the country railing at woman because of the scantiness of her skirts 'nearly everything, here comes the reverse school of reform declaring that she is wasting much substance on the adornment of herself by the purchase of too many clothes composed of too much fabric in constant following of silly changes in style. This, too, in face of the well-established fact that a woman dead is much happier than a woman out of style. However, she is not without defenders.

Says one of these: "For every American woman who is extravagant there are ten thousand who watch closely the cost of their wardrobe." Then to make it stronger and even up many scores of mere man's interference in feminine fashions there is added this one for masculine consumption: "Men invariably purchase clothing without concern as to the cost, while women are natural bargain hunters and get twice as much for their money as do the men."

Anyhow, women are entitled to adornment. Some of them really need it and it doesn't hurt the others. It is a man's place to write checks in payment of woman's dress bills, not write criticisms in endeavor to check her dress buying. He but adds his wastage of time to her wastage of money. Which is very uneconomical economy.

A few more scratches are due before the big August Derby is run.

ADVISES BANKS TO ADVERTISE
Newspapers One of Best Mediums in Securing Savings Accounts,
Says Woman Manager.

Atlanta, Ga. — Newspaper advertising enables the banker to reach more people during their leisure hours, at a smaller cost per person, than any other means, and is one of the best ways to get savings accounts," asserted Miss Minnie A. Buzbee, manager of advertising for the American Bank of Commerce and Trust Company, of Little Rock — an institution that has been uncommonly successful in building business through advertising — in addressing the financial section of the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, in session here.

The financial advertising section has been uncommonly well attended and the sessions tremendously interesting, indicating a decidedly rapid growth of interest, on the part of the banks, in constructive advertising methods.

"Human nature is a queer thing,"

Miss Buzbee said, "All of us, whether children or grown, have our full share of that characteristic. Whether it is ten-year-old boy who has to be forced into eating whole-wheat bread and prunes when he wants two head-up dishes of ice cream and plenty of rich cake; or the girl who is made to go to church when she is crazy to go for a long ride with her latest beau; or the grown man who has to be urged and coaxed and persuaded to lay aside a little of his money for old age and the rainy day when he would much rather follow his inclination and spend it all for a good time as he goes along—we are all very much alike."

Miss Buzbee advocated going after new business, of course, but said that many banks are overlooking the opportunity to do a greater business with present customers. She held that the lack of intensive methods on the part of legitimate financial institutions was one of the reasons for the success of Blue Sky promoters. People need to be educated as to investments of the safe kind, she said.

New York. — The Chinese are undoubtedly more philosophical about their view of crime than we. They divide the guilt around in complex ways. Ah Foon, reputed to be the wealthiest man in New York's Chinatown goes clothed in much splendor of rich raiment and precious jewels. The other night a holdup man couldn't resist that splendor and Ah Foon was hit over the head and robbed. The guilty man was caught and convicted; but his defense was that Ah Foon was to blame for displaying his wealth so lavishly as to arouse cupidity!

It seems that men have some troubles in life, too. The other day a man was rushing up from his train at a speed which fast exhausted the friend with him. "I want to get a new hat before I meet my wife for lunch," he panted. "Won't she stand for the felt one any longer?" asked the sympathetic companion. "Partly that; but more'n that, she'll go with me to choose one if I don't get it first," was the explanation. "Last year she picked out one that made me look like the pictures of little Rollo. All I needed was a hoop!"

JOY BROUGHT INTO HOME

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Restoring Mrs. Benz to Health

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is some healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

No woman can realize the joy and happiness this healthy baby brought into the home of Mrs. Benz, unless they have had a like experience. Every woman who suffers from any ailments peculiar to her sex, as indicated by backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, irregularities, nervousness and "the blues" should not rest until they have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

ducing companies continue to present themselves. One of these producers who is starting out in a particularly ambitious manner is W. K. Ziegfeld. "The Black Panther," his first picture, has just had its first showing and it sets a standard to be maintained. With Florence Reed, Norman Trevor, Brandon, Tynon, Mlle. Dazie and half a dozen others of established reputations in the cast, it could hardly have been uninteresting, even without its thrilling plot and good direction.

An annual theater week, patterned after the Stratford-on-Avon festival, which attracts thousands of theater lovers to England each spring, is being planned for New York by the Actors' Equity Association. The first festival will be held in June of next year if all goes well. The Equity Association will produce the best plays of every country and age during the week more than 1000 actors and actresses taking part in the eight performances. One program will cover the cycle from the Greek to the Elizabethan drama. Each performance will have its own director, its own staff and its own cast.

LUCY JENNE PRICE.

UNCLE TED'S BED-TIME STORIES.

Bringing Profiteers To Justice.

"If they aren't worse they sure are just as bad. I think the fellows who got rich because they didn't play fair with the government during the war are worse than the fellows who tried to get out of fighting." It was Jack talking on his side of an argument in which he was rapidly winning over one of his chums, Johnny Jones.

"But, Jack," said Johnny, "the fellows who wouldn't fight ought to have been sent to jail. Suppose every fellow had said he wouldn't fight?"

"Well, where have you been?" asked Jack. "Don't you know that lots and lots of fellows who wouldn't fight were sent to jail? I know Uncle Ted told me that to gring about justice in which he was rapidly winning over one of his chums, Johnny Jones.

"You're right, Jack," interjected Uncle Ted who had just arrived on the scene. "About the only punishment the war profiteers have received has been to pay an income tax on the great amount of money they made out of the war. And, of course everyone has to pay an income tax, so that doesn't mean anything. I think the meanest type of man on earth was the man who used the requirements of the great war to cheat the government and the people. Instead of giving, fighting, and helping to the limit when the country needed help as it never had needed it before, these men actually made it harder to win the war, and at the same time kept rolling the money into their own pockets.

"I can't help but remember just one little thing from the war that was the result of profiteering. You know it rained and rained and rained in France and if the doughboys needed anything they needed protection from the rain. But you should have seen some of the raincoats made after the war started and issued to the men in France. They hardly reached their knees and were nearly as thin as tissue paper. Somebody must have made a nice pile of money on that.

"But kiddies, I feel better today about this thing than I have for a long time because the time is coming very soon when these men will be brought to task for their actions. Ever since the war there has been a lot of talk about going after these war grafters. The late attorney general, Mr. Palmer, did a lot of talking but stopped there, too. However, Mr. Palmer and his associates do not count for anything now and I know that for a long time some earnest quiet work has been going on in preparation for the work of bringing these men to task and making them square things with the government and the people.

"Attorney General Daugherty, head of the Department of Justice, is going to see that justice is done. He is not going to conduct a tea party. It is going to be real business and he is going to the limit in making the war grafters square things. It seems that for some time he has had an investigation made of the various kinds of contracts for war supplies and they have found such a tremendous number of grafting cases that a special bureau must be established to handle the job. The big fellows are the ones who will be brought to justice."

"I heard that there were hundreds of millions of dollars paid out of the Treasury that were not fair profits," said Jack.

"Yes, Jack, I guess it was so much that it is hard to realize, but if Attorney General Daugherty succeeds, and I think he will, that money will be returned to the government. In his statement on this subject made after a conference with President Harding, Mr. Daugherty said something about the draft dodgers. I'll read it to you: "How are we going to justify the actio no the government in sending men to jail for trying to render the draft law ineffective, when we are letting certain kinds of men go free, after they have mulcted the government and the people of unimaginable sums?"

"If these men think the present administration is going to stand for what they did, they have another think coming. It is going to take a lot of hard work to gring about justice in this matter, but Mr. Daugherty is bringing big men to help him. In fact right now Mr. Daugherty is trying to find big men to take charge of this work. In his work of organizing the special bureau to prosecute these cases, Mr. Daugherty will have the aid of Col. William Hayward, Federal district attorney of New York, who will have charge of all cases that will come up in New York."

"How about the business men who took fair profits and even gave the government supplies at a loss?" asked Jack. "I hope they will give those men credit."

"Don't worry about that, Jack. Mr. Daugherty is well aware that there were hundreds of patriotic American business men whose wirs' thought was for America and backing up the fighting forces, and whose last thoughts were of their pocket books. He will see that those men are protected. Listen to what he says about that:

"Business men who served their government faithfully and took only fair profits to which they were entitled have nothing to fear now. The many thousands of men in this class need not be uneasy that charges that may be found later to be false, will be used against them."

"I'm mighty glad these grafters are going to get it," said Jack.

"So am I," said Ruth. "Yes, children, it is the only fair and square thing and Mr. Daugherty is to be congratulated on his efforts and splendid plans to work it out."

MONDELL DEFENDS HOUSE.

Washington, W. C. — Representative Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, majority leader in the House, resents the carefully cultivated Democratic attempt to spread the idea that the Republican Congress is not speeding enough. He says:

"We were a few days late in getting started, owing to the fact that the minority did not have their committee places filled. Since that time by unanimous consent we have several times adjourned over Saturday. And may I suggest to the gentleman from Texas and to the other gentlemen on that side that if that is held to be killing time I shall not hereafter prefer any request for unanimous consent to adjourn over Saturday? Notwithstanding these adjournments, for which they have pleaded, we have worked more continuously and diligently and have passed more good legislation through the House in this session of Congress than in any like period during the twenty-five years I have been in Congress, and no one can deny that fact. We are progressing in a businesslike way and are disposing of many very important and pressing questions."

"CONVICTS TREATED LIKE HONORED GUESTS," MAXEY.

Newport, Ky. — In a statement bitterly criticizing methods of conducting the Kentucky State Reformatory as being of "milk and water, Sunday school character," Joseph Maxey announced he has tendered his resignation as assistant superintendent. Maxey denounced the policy of the new superintendent, Henry V. Baatin, who, he said, treated the prisoners as "honored guests of the institution."

$25,000 FIRE AT WARFIELD, KY.

Warfield, Ky., June 22. — Fire believed to have originated from a cigarette carelessly thrown in a trash destroyed the new More hotel, with a loss of $19,000; the L. Booth residence, loss $3,000, and the H. Haws building, loss $3,000.

The flames, originating on the second floor of the hotel, which had not been occupied, were discovered at 3 a. m.

Pistol shots sounded the alarm and the entire town turned out to fight the fire.

That numerous other buildings were not consumed was due to heroic work by bucket brigades.

Especially praise is being given a crew of Spaniards employed in railroad construction who formed a living chain passing water in buckets from Tug River.

$75,000 DAMAGE SUIT IN LEXINGTON

Lexington, Ky., June 23. — The suit brought by Mrs. Kathryn Arnold against the Phoenix Hotel for $75,000 damages, in which she declares she was insulted and struck by Paul Hite, a former Frankfort boy, while she was on the mezzanine of the hotel, was dismissed Wednesday by Federal District Judge A. M. J. Cochran, following the submission of all testimony. The case was not permitted to go to the jury. Judge Cochran declared the Federal Court did not have jurisdiction. This claim, advanced by the defense, was based on the fact that Mrs. Arnold before coming to Lexington, had lived in three cities in Texas, then in Tennessee and finally in Kentucky and is at the present time living in Tulsa, Okla.

A total of 58 teachers and prospective teachers are now enrolled in the Mason County Normal School.

USE IT DON'T LOSE IT.

When it comes to spelling, there is mighty little difference between "Using your head" and "Losing your head." But when it comes to personal finance, there is all the difference between prosperity and disaster. Some lose their heads in prosperity and some in times of disaster. One is equally fatal with the other. Every able bodied American can make money but every American does not have money because he loses his head instead of using it.

The only sound principle of personal finance is to use both your head and your money and to lose neither. You work for your money but your money will work far more effectively for you through investment if you use your head.

There are many ways in which you may use your head and still lose your money. But there is one sure way of using your head which will render your money absolutely safe and at the same time put it to profitable use. That way is to set aside each week a certain amount of what you earn and put it into Government Savings Securities, Treasury Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates. They are both safe and profitable. Their possession will in most cases keep you from losing your head and your money either in times of prosperity or adversity.

Use it don't lose it.

BUY YOUR COAL DIRECT FROM MINE—BIG SAVING.

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past! At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices, whether a carload buyer or one who used only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 490 Como Building, Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use.
